The 2 days of training & workshop is for teachers to revisit and revitalize their method of teaching the Integral Pedagogical process:

... a teaching model that seeks to develop more integrated men and women for others.

... A process whereby a teacher accompanies the students in his/her intellectual, spiritual and emotional development.

...a reflection that carefully & consciously considers the real context of the student's life.

...provides a continual interplay of reflection, experience and action in the teaching-learning dynamic.

...and includes ongoing assessment of the students' well-rounded growth as persons for others.
